

SUNDAY..... SEPT. 26, 1858.

Typographical Union.
The members of the Louisville Typographical Union are requested to meet at Temperance Hall, this (Sunday) evening, September 1, at 1 o'clock, to attend the funeral of Mr. L. Ward.

J. R. WATTS, Secretary.

Third street was the scene of a homicide, last evening, about two o'clock, or a little after. Robert Lindsay came up to D. L. Ward, who was sitting or standing in front of Mr. Diller's tobacco store. Some conversation ensued. Lindsay called Ward a "bar"; Ward struck him, and Lindsay shot him instantly. Ward staggered into this office, and sat down in a chair. "Lindsay did it," said he, "arrest him"—walked a few steps, to a table, laid down, and died in about half an hour. The inquest before the Coroner's inquest will be found in another column. The parties were interred by trade. Lindsay was working in the corner office; the deceased left that office on strike, some weeks ago. Lindsay has a family in this city. Ward has a wife and two children, who live in Covington, Ky.

LOUISVILLE COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.—This is established, popular, and exceedingly useful institution, well and favorably known. "Boyd's Commercial College," has been in successful operation for more than twelve years, and was chartered by the Legislature in 1848. It has, during this period, graduated a greater number of thorough, accomplished book-keepers, who are now occupying responsible and lucrative situations, than any other similar institution in the West or South. The great advantage which this college has over many others is, that the course of instruction is thorough, plain, and practical, and embraces every branch of a commercial education. The pupil is led gradually, step by step, through the fundamental principles of the science, incident to practical forms of day book, journal, and ledger entries, up to the final leading of books, thereby acquiring in the space of six or eight weeks knowledge that could not be acquired in two years as an assistant in a counting room. The pupil also has the advantage of a thorough course of instruction in penmanship, and for a small extra fee can obtain a complete knowledge of mathematics.

Mr. J. J. Boyl, the principal of the school, is a superior practical accountant, and an excellent teacher of the science he professes. With the aid of his accomplished assistants, he is enabled to induce his patrons—especially teachers of the science he professes—to give their pupils a thorough, plain, and practical education, which will fit them for any situation in life. We have no doubt that this school will continue to receive the liberal patronage extended to it in years past. See advertisement in another column.

"We invite the attention of our friends in the country to the advertisement of Hobbs, Walker & Co. To those who know these gentlemen, it would be absurd to say that their statements may be relied on, for in the minds of all such, the reliability of Hobbs, Walker & Co. is a "fixed institution"—as much so as the sun. We have frequently visited the nurseries of these gentlemen, and can say that in no other nurseries have we ever seen trees so beautiful. They understand their business thoroughly, and, in addition to their knowledge, they have taste. No trees grown in northern nurseries can for a moment bear a comparison with theirs. We advise our friends, who attend the Agricultural Fair, to pay a visit to these nurseries, and see for themselves. If they do, they will say that our praise is faint.

Louisville and Nashville Railroad—Winter Arrangement.

We call the attention of readers to the winter arrangement of trains over the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and the Lebanon Branch road. The arrival and departure of trains, the connections made, the arrangements for through passengers to Nashville, to Lebanon, &c., are all furnished, and we refer our travelers and citizens to the advertisement for particulars.

"The Daily Democrat is the only paper in Louisville published on Sunday morning—those, therefore, who are desirous of securing the news up to the close of the week, and the dispatches and local news up to the hour of publication, should send their orders.

Mr. C. C. Spencer's sale at auction of a house and lot on Main street, between 7th and 8th, on Saturday afternoon, was largely attended, and the bidding was quite lively. The property brought $6,250, and was bought by Mr. Robert Beatty.

"See Mr. C. C. Spencer's advertisement in our paper this morning, of a select lot of Oil Paintings, rich silver plated ware, and rosewood piano. This sale offers inducements to artists, the lovers of the picturesque, and families.

THEATRE.—Mr. Murdoch had a fine house last night. His Macbeth was not as good as some of his other characters, but still was a very artistic rendering. The afterpiece was new, and very laughable.

To-morrow evening the new drama of Gold will be produced. It has been prepared with no little expense and labor, and we have no doubt will have a good run.

MAN STARRED.—Shortly after 11 o'clock last night, on Fifth street, near the river, a couple of Indians got into a difficulty, in the course of which, one of them stabbed the other so that it supposed he could not live. The one who stabbed him, was arrested by Mr. Antle and Col. Bain. We could not learn any names, nor further particulars.

"We call the attention of young men to the advertisement of a night school by Mr. Hammett. It will furnish an opportunity for those desirous of educating themselves to attend without losing time from their business.

Francis Soad was yesterday sworn in as interpreter in the city court, which was expected by Mr. Ruckstuhl.

DECLARATION.—August Arnold swore to and filed a declaration of his intentions of becoming a citizen of the United States.

TICKETING DAY.—To-morrow will be the greatest day at the Fair grounds. Besides the horses from Detroit, several fine ones have arrived from Cincinnati and other points. The cars will run all day Monday, as well as during the rest of the week.

MR. W. W. WELLS, the indomitable tailor, has been doing a thriving business the past week in the way of cutting and making to measure, in the best style, coats, pants, and waistcoats. His store has been literally flooded with old and anxious customers, as well as hundreds of new ones. We think Wells can't be beat in making fine fitting clothing.

"Mrs. McGirty sued out a peace warrant against Chas. Junot, charging him with having struck her with a club. The case was dismissed, and charges have been preferred against Mr. Junot, who is a police officer, which will be tried before the Mayor and Chief of Police.

TICKETING DAY.—To-morrow will be the greatest day at the Fair grounds. Besides the horses from Detroit, several fine ones have arrived from Cincinnati and other points. The cars will run all day Monday, as well as during the rest of the week.

MR. BLANCHE.—This celebrated lady physician has moved to the city, and taken a residence on Fourth street, between Walnut and Chestnut.

CARL FORMES.—It will be seen, from the advertisement in our columns this morning, that the great boxer, Carl Formes, will give one concert in this city next Saturday night.

A young man named Peter Jones was killed Friday, on the Wilmington and Zanesville Railroad. He was lying on the track, and before the brakeman could reverse, the locomotive ran over and killed him.

"We publish in another column the action of the Board of Commissioners, in the case of suit against Thomas.

Coroner's Inquest—Testimony in the Case of the Murder of D. L. Ward.

J. N. COLLINS SWAIN: Saw two men on the opposite side of the street; saw deceased strike Lindsay on the left cheek; Lindsay then drew a pistol and fired at Ward with a revolver; witness then went up to Lindsay and said, "I am not a policeman;" Lindsay handed witness the revolver, and witness delivered Lindsay to an officer; knew of no previous alteration between them.

Roger COLLINS SWAIN: Was sitting with his teacher, J. (the former witness) on the opposite side of the street; brother remarked, "there's a man shot;" did not see any before the shot; don't know either of the parties; has seen Ward before; occurrence took place near Diller's tobacco store; thought to put something in his pocket; he asked me to say something to Lindsay, "did you shoot him?" and Lindsay said "I did;" I don't see Ward strike Lindsay; had his attention first called by his brother.

J. H. SONNEN SWAIN: Was going down Third street; saw Lindsay go to Ward; what Lindsay said—but expected a fight, and stopped; did not see Ward strike Lindsay; was standing about three yards from the parties at the time; heard no threats on either side; don't know of any previous misunderstanding; saw the pistol in Lindsay's hand after he shot Ward; saw no weapon with Ward; Ward was in the act of getting up from the steps when Lindsay shot him; know Ward and Lindsay slightly.

J. D. BURGESS SWAIN: Was in conversation with Ward, on the steps, on the subject of Ward's intended departure; talked about ten minutes with him; Ward said he had a headache; I said "I'll speak to him." Ward spoke to Lindsay about some difficulty between them which occurred about a month ago; don't know what it was, but heard Lindsay call Ward a "d—d liar;" Ward then arose and struck Lindsay; Lindsay then drew a pistol and shot Ward; Ward said "I'm shot—killed too;" occurred in the steps about a quarter past two when Lindsay shot him.

CORONER'S VERDICT.—That the said D. L. Ward came to his death from a gun-shot wound in the left breast, at the hands of Robert R. Lindsay, on the 25th inst., about 2 o'clock, r. x.

The Masonic Fair.—We have been allowed the privilege of looking through many of the articles imported by the enterprising members of the Masonic Fraternity, for exhibition and for sale at their Fair, which is to commence to-morrow evening, 27th. Amongst other articles, our attention was particularly called to the display of china and glassware. There are many sets of superb tea and dinner sets, every one complete, and made up of the most beautiful designs, combined with the most elegant workmanship, such as would command the good taste of our citizens. Vases, mantel ornaments, &c., the Fair is richly endowed with. It would seem as if the wealth of the Curandier were exhausted in furnishing the beautiful specimens that the Fair is now in possession of.

In specimens of domestic and foreign manufacture, to suit the taste of the juveniles, and the more advanced in years, the beautiful rooms of the Masonic Temple are richly stored; and when brought into one general, wide a display will be made, such as our citizens are seldom accustomed to witness, and to see which will be, or ought to be, considered an epoch in our life.

ANOTHER CUTTING AFFAIR.—We learned about 12 o'clock last night, of another cutting affair in the First Ward; the affair reported to us, was that John Gray and Doc Amato attacked some other man, name unknown, and cut him very badly, so that it is supposed he can scarcely recover. The difficulty originated, we are told, about a chicken fight. We also learn that the cause of the affray on Fifth street, was some dispute about a chair. Here are two cutting and one shooting affair between 2 and 12 o'clock, r. m., yesterday, one resulted fatally, and it is expected the others will also. What are we coming to? Did not hear of any arrests in this latter case.
